

The Australian Medicinal Cannabis Course was developed in 2016 by Associate Professor David Caldicott, in conjunction with the Australian National University and United In Compassion. It has been designed to provide health care practitioners with an evidence based educational package to introduce them to the basics of the endocannabinoid system, and how it can be manipulated for medicinal benefit.

ACT Health is hosting this course for health practitioners in association with key stakeholders; Capital Health Network (ACT PHN), Pharmaceutical Society of Australia - ACT Branch, The Pharmacy Guild of Australia - ACT Branch and the Society of Hospital Pharmacists of Australia - ACT Branch.

Saturday 26th May 2018, 8:30-4pm
Level 2, Building 2, 2-6 Bowes Street
PHILLIP ACT 2605
Cost: Free

Course founder and presenter: Associate Professor David Caldicott

Introduction- Why A Course?

1 The History of Medicinal Cannabis

The Basic Science

- 2 The Endocannabinoid System
- 3 The Cannabis Plant
- 4 The Pharmacology of Cannabinoids
- 5 Cannabinoid Drug Delivery and Doses

The Clinical Science

- Medicinal Cannabis & Pain
- Medical Cannabis & Palliative Care
- Medical Cannabis & Seizure Disorders
- Medicinal Cannabis & Emerging Clinical Indications
- Special Populations- The Young, the Elderly, & Pregnancy
- Cannabis Use Disorder, & Medicinal Cannabis

Other Aspects

- Prescribing Medicinal Cannabis in Australia
- Cannabis and Driving
- The Public Health Aspects of Medicinal Cannabis
- International Approaches to Medicinal Cannabis
- Medicinal Cannabinoid Mythologies

This activity has been submitted to RACGP for Category 2 Activity CPD points in the QI & CPD Program for 2017 – 2019 Triennium. ACT Health is currently seeking accreditation of this CPD activity for pharmacists.

Catering will be provided at the event. If you have special dietary requirements, please contact Danielle on 6207 4770 or danielle.may@act.gov.au

Register for the event using the Eventbrite App or via the following link: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/the-australian-medicinal-cannabis-course-tickets-43420884033> Password C@nn@bis